Lease Periods Computation

❯ The depreciation basis for a leasehold improvement is set to Lease Periods not years.

❯ Since a lease is fixed for a set term, each newly acquired improvement has a smaller amortization timeframe.

❯ On the Asset Master screen, the radio button must be set to Lease Periods. This is the only noticeable difference on this screen.

❯ Information within Purchase Information, Cost Information, and Accounts are identical to that of all other assets.

❯ The most significant difference is contained within the subtask entitled General Ledger Book.
